GOOD CONVENTION HELD BY TEACHERS

68 TEACHERS ATTEND MEETING

The fourth Annual Convention of the Trochu Teachers' Association was held in the Carbon School on Thursday and Friday of last week. In all there were 68 teachers enrolled on the opening of the convention. This is very encouraging when it is considered that Carbon is situated at the very south of the district and those who did not attend were mostly from the far-off points.

Mr. Code of Carbon opened the Convention with an address of welcome, and in a few chosen words welcomed the Teachers to Carbon. This address was to have been given by Mayor S. J. Garrett, but owing to his illness in the hospital Mr. Code represented him. Mr. Len Foxon, on behalf of the school board also welcomed the teachers to Carbon.

The following programme was then carried out and throughout the entire two days a most successful convention was held.

"Teaching and Training Small Children" given by Miss Kate Ramsay of Carbon.

"Art—Representation in all Grades" by Mr. Hutton of the Calgary Normal School.

At noon on Thursday a banquet for the teachers was held in the Farmers' Exchange hall. During this time addresses were given by Mr. McNichol, Mr. Murray of Olds, and Mr. Moyer, M.L.A., of Drumheller.

In the afternoon Inspector McLean spoke on "Literature in Grade IX" Mr. Kelly gave an address on "Science in Grade IX" and Mr. Ure on "Problems of the Beginner."

In the evening a dance was held in the Farmers' Exchange hall.

Friday morning the program opened with a narrative "Writing" by Mrs. Midgeley, while Mr. Gibson spoke on "Discipline." Following this was an address by Mr. Code regarding the school Fair. Mr. Hart then addressed the meeting. Other addresses given were by Mrs. Ferguson of Trochu, The President of the Trustees Association, and by Mr. Wootton who represented the A.T.A.

At the afternoon session on Friday Mr. H. Irwin gave an address on "Literature Grades VII and VIII. Following this election of officers took place, resulting in Mr. Cameron being elected as president; Miss M. Cameron, vice-president and Miss K. Ramsay as secretary-treasurer.

The next meeting place of the Association will be at Trochu, the meeting decided.

An Organization Field Day for the Inspectorate will be held sometime next spring, when all parts of the Inspectorate will be asked to take part.

Note—At this time the Executive of the Teachers' Association wish to extend their thanks and appreciation to the citizens of Carbon for their hospitality to the visiting teachers.

CARBON ELKS TO PLAY CALGARY LODGE AT BRIDGE

An invitation has been extended to the Calgary Elks Lodge to compete in a friendly Bridge Tournament with the local Order of Elks and the date of this meeting has been set for next Thursday night, November 20th. It is expected that about twenty visitors will be present and that a real enjoyable time will be had. All members are asked to turn out on this occasion whether they are bridge players or not. This is to be an all round social evening for every member of the lodge and they are asked to turn out in full force.

GARRETT MOTORS ENTERED TUESDAY

A thief or thieves broke into the Garrett Garage on Tuesday night of this week, but as far as can be learned at the present time, nothing has been taken, there being no money in the till at the time. Entrance was gained through a window at the rear of the garage and evidently the thief or the thieves were after the cash. The Alberta Provincial Police officer, Const. Jones, is investigating the case.

The same evening G. F. McGregor's car was taken from the garage and after attempting to get the vehicle started, it was abandoned near the bridge across the creek.

The above is just one of the many cases that are being reported daily and citizens would do well to take every precaution so that cases of the above nature may not be repeated.

WHEAT POOL CUTS INITIAL PAYMENT TO 50c BUSHEL

On Tuesday of this week the initial payment on wheat, rye and flax was cut down again. The Central Selling Agency of the Canadian Wheat Pools has announced that the initial payment on wheat per bushel is cut from 55c to 50c, for No. 1 Northern; on flax from $1 to 75 cents, for No. 1 C.W., and on rye from 30 to 25 cents for No. 2 C.W., all basis Fort William.

The new payments compare to the following tentative initial payments announced by the Pools on the annual "cut-off" date, July 15 last; wheat 70 cents; flax $1.25; rye 30 cents. Closing prices for cash grains on the Winnipeg market last Saturday were: wheat No. 1 northern 68 5-8 cents; flax, No. 1 N.W.C. $1.09 and rye No. 2 C.W. 33 1-4 cents.

The Wheat Pool announcement mentioned that the five-cent reduction on wheat does not apply to Amber, Durum, White Spring wheat, and some of the lower grades, and that the spreads on the lower grades will be narrowed.

Jos. Connolly took in the High school convention on Thursday and Friday of last week. Mr. Connolly was one of the speakers at the convention.

BADMINTON CLUB MAY BE FORMED

A public meeting was held in the municipal office on Tuesday night of this week for the purpose of starting a Badminton Club in Carbon. There seems to be quite a bit of enthusiasm in the game and with the large number of Tennis players in town the game ought to take well when commenced. The purpose of the meeting on Tuesday was to get as much information on the game as possible and to find out just what the cost of conducting such a game during the winter months would be, and a committee was appointed to find out what halls in town would be suitable for Badminton and the approximate cost of rental per month. Another committee was appointed to canvas for members in order to find out how many would be willing to join such a club, should it be formed. When this information is available another meeting will be called and at that time it will be decided whether or not the cost of Badminton will be prohibitive this year. At the present time it is said that the membership fee should not be more than 3 for the season.

When the next meeting is called, full data will be available and it is to be hoped that a full turn out of both ladies and gentlemen will be present so that a general opinion of the prospective members may be had.

MURDER MYSTERY MOVIE TO BE SHOWN HERE

A Murder trial, courtroom picture that's different, refreshingly new in story and treatment, "The Drake Case" sensational Universal film, will show at the Carbon Theatre on Friday and Saturday of this week.

An all star cast, headed by the emotional Gladys Brockwell, Forrest Stanley, Robert Frazer, James Crane and Doris Lloyd was assembled for "The Drake Case," an original story by Chas. Logue, and it is heralded as one of the most unusual and thrilling pictures of its kind.

Miss Brockwell plays the role of the defendant in the case, accused of murder. Stanley is in a role in which he has shown his finesse as an actor—the prosecuting district attorney. Frazer is the defense attorney and Crane and Miss Lloyd have equally important parts.

Director Edward Laemmle was determined to create the greatest courtroom picture with "The Drake Case," and no effort was spared to achieve this goal. The picture grips the spectator from the first scene until its thrilling culmination in the courtroom, a surprise ending that defies detection as the story unreels itself in the testimony of witnesses at the trial.

The story is built about the murder of the wealthy Mrs. George Morgan Drake for which a servant in her home, Gladys Brockwell, is arrested.

CHRONICLE ADS PAY

WHIST DRIVE TO BE HELD IN AID OF SCHOOL FAIR

On Thursday, November 27th, commencing at 8 p.m., a whist drive will be held in the Elks Hall under the auspices of the Carbon School Fair. This year there was a large deficit and funds are required to put the affairs of the School Fair in shape. This money went to pay the prizes for exhibits at the fair this year and every cent was well spent, and it ought to be the duty of everyone who is able, to attend. We understand that the deficit was around $75 and these whist drives will continue till that amount is raised.

C. OHLHAUSER'S BIG CAR BURNS

Another automobile fire was reported last week when Gottlieb Ohlhauser's Imperial "80" Chrysler sedan was damaged by fire. Gottlieb was on his way back from a trip to Calgary at the time and just after he left the gravel he was aware of fire in the car. After considerable difficulty the fire was extinguished, but not before considerable damage was done to the car. It is thought that the fire originated from defective wiring. Some insurance was carried on the vehicle.

PEPPER-FREIZE

A quiet marriage was solemnized at the Manse, Carbon, on Tuesday, Nov. 11th, by Rev. Wm. McNichol, M.A., when Miss Pauline Helen Freize of Three Hills became the bride of Mr. Mansel Manfred Pepper of Drumheller.

LITTLE FIBS THAT NEVER WEAR OUT

"Well, I had a good time, but it's good to be back at work again."

"Oh, we don't mind riding in the rumble seat a bit."

"Aw, let the kids stay here, Bill. They don't bother us."

"Listen, I know I'm in, but I'll put in another chip, anyhow."

"Go right ahead, Mrs. Smith! We always enjoy 'Amos 'n Andy'."

"Usually it's very cool here at night. I can't understand why . . ."

"Really, I think your daughter has a marvelous voice."

" . . . And we hope you'll come over and see us real soon!"

TENNIS DANCE IS VERY SUCCESSFUL

The Carbon Lawn Tennis Club held a very successful dance on Thursday evening, November 6th, in the Farmers' Exchange hall. It was estimated that there were over two hundred persons present, and with the music furnished by the five-piece Georgian Orchestra from Calgary, everyone had a most enjoyable time. The hall had been prettily decorated for the occasion, the colors chosen being orange and black, and tennis racquets, nets, etc., were used in the decorative design. The visitors from other towns expressed great pleasure and satisfaction in the manner in which the dance was conducted and it is to be hoped that this will be an annual feature of the Tennis Club's yearly programme. There was a balance in hand of $47 after all expenses were paid, the expenses amounting to well over one hundred dollars, as the executive of the Club spared no efforts to make this dance a success.

ALBERTA UNIVERSITY GETS BARLEY 3,000 YEARS OLD

The cultivation of barley in early times has been demonstrated by the finding of charred grains in the homes of prehistoric people of Europe. Some of these early barleys have been unearthed recently in a grain pit of the time of King Solomon, tenth century, B.C., at Tell-Fara, Palestine. Through the courtesy of the Royal Ontario Museum, the University of Alberta has received a sample of hulless barley from these tombs.

The shape of the grains is well preserved, but they are thoroughly charred.

A point of great scientific interest is that kernels of this early grain appear to be identical in structure with some of our cultivated varieties of today.

Barley was one of the first cereals cultivated for human food. It was the chief food producing plant of the Jewish race and other people as well until it was gradually replaced by the introduction of rye and wheat.

On Wednesday, October 29th a most enjoyable dance was held at the Granger hall in aid of the Calgary Red Cross Hospital. A profit of $47.70 was made.

"Pa, what is a philosopher?"
"A man with a good liver, heart, stomach and bank account."

What Have You Learned About Life?

A world-wide organization of men recently conducted a contest, requesting letters on the subject: "What Have I Learned About Life?" Numerous replies were received, and the writer of this column feels that he cannot do better this week than pass on one of the prize winning essays. It is brief, and to the point, and reads:

"I used to drive my father's car on the country roads. While bouncing along over the rough ruts on the right side, the left part of the road always appeared more inviting; but once on that side I inevitably found it just as rough or worse.

This is the first lesson I have learned about the roadway of life. The other side is deceiving. The boy longs to be a man, and the old man glorifies the golden days of his youth. The poor yearn to be rich, while a larger income consistently calls for more expense. But the successes and gains of life are not in the future or the past, nor in the other man's back yard. They lie within our own reach at the present time and in the present conditions. Life has lined us up for an even start.

The second thing I have learned about life is that God hasn't finished the job. We rejoice in the accomplishments of science, religion and social relationships, but yet in the crowded ways of life we find vile strife, unbrotherliness, political corruption and the curse of a maladjusted industrial order. Civilization is in its infancy, and its growth will depend on us of the present generation. There are still new worlds for men to conquer.

It doesn't take long for one to learn that there is no getting by in the long run of life. Being born into the world with this or that fortune or pedigree does not guarantee that one shall have a sturdy character and a personality that shines like the morning sun. Regardless of where a man starts in life those things of lasting value, education, religion, business power, a strong and virile physique and a happy home life are obtained only by long hours of patient and arduous toil and self-discipline which alone are the harbingers of a radiant and masterful personality. There are no sales and charge accounts in the market places of life. The price of the best is constant.

Finally I have learned that there is enough happiness in life to go around. No man is cut off from his heritage of happiness even though it be interspersed with hardships and sorrows. To be able to see the vision of life's task in spite of the cramped quarters of a small job; to find outlet of soul and character in stooping to help a brother while persecuted by others; to rejoice in the exaltation of personality while crushed in the wheels of industrialism; and to be happy in a great and thrilling quest with the fresh dawn of each immortal day—this is the major lesson of life.

Shipping Asbestos To Japan

About Eighty Per Cent. Used Is Produced In Canada

"The market in Japan for asbestos in lump, powder and fibre, as well as in packing and other forms is increasing year by year owing to the expansion of industrial plants using this material and to the great variety of uses to which asbestos products are being put in everyday life," according to James A. Langley, commercial secretary to the Canadian Legation at Tokyo, Japan, in an article in the October issue of the Commercial Intelligence Journal.

About 80 per cent. of the asbestos used in Japan comes directly from Canada, a small percentage from Russia and the balance through one or two English concerns interested in the African asbestos deposits. The demand for asbestos powder and fibre runs to about 12,000 tons.

Veteran Government Worker

Walter Todd Has Served In Civil Service For More Than Half a Century

Walter Todd, for more than half a century clerk of committees and private bills for the House of Commons, died at Ottawa recently in his 74th year. His illness had been of brief duration.

The 57 years Mr. Todd spent as a government worker made him, in point of continuous service, one of the oldest members of the civil service. He succeeded his father to the position of clerk of committees in 1848.

In addition to the coincidence that father and son gave many years to the same post in the service of their country, one other peculiar incident stood out similarly in both their lives. In 1848 when the Parliament buildings, then situated in Montreal, were fired by an angry mob during the agitation which followed introduction of the Rebellion Losses' Bill, Mr. Todd's father cut the portrait of Queen Victoria from its frame while the structure about him was in flames.

In 1916 when the Parliament buildings at Ottawa again went up in flames, Walter Todd cut the same portrait of her late majesty from its frame and once again the canvas was saved by a Todd.

Marketing Grain Through Livestock Production Will Solve Problem Of Western Farmer

Whether to sell grains through livestock or for cash has been a question much discussed in the past. The question of the effect of concentration production on the sale of grains for cash has now been pretty well settled. What about selling them through livestock? Particularly attractive features about selling grains for cash have been the relatively low amount of labor and skill involved and the rapidity with which the cash could be secured. But this latter advantage has disappeared and now it is a question of whether we shall do the work and learn the skill.

Attaining skill costs money, but it should not be charged into costs of producing, say, hogs. It is an investment which will always return big interest. It is largely a matter of will and intelligence.

Many farmers can feed considerable numbers of livestock without increasing the amount of money ac-production comes in. Such results are the reward of a steady policy persistently carried out over the years.

The farmer who has steadily added to his equipment and skill is this year not worrying about the low price of grains. Rather he is benefiting by it. Even in the years of the highest priced grains he still has averaged a fair margin over grain prices. Sometimes it is necessary to feed hogs for returns that do not exceed the cash values of feed grains, but one thing that should sink into the minds of every person interested in the livestock industry is the utter foolishness of reducing breeding stock because of temporary condition.

It will be understood that while the accompanying tables give the feeding value per bushel of wheat, oats, and barley separately it is, of course, advisable to feed them mixed one with the other. A good ration for growing pigs would be equal weights of wheat,

Grain Values When Fed to Hogs

IN the table below is shown the value of a bushel of wheat, barley, and oats when fed to hogs at the rates of 500 lb., 450 lb., 400 lb., and 375 lb., to produce 100 lb. of hog when the selling price of hogs ranges from $10 to $6 per 100 lb. For instance, in the first line of the table it will be seen that when hogs are selling at $10 per 100 lb., wheat fed in the ratio of 5 lb. to make a pound of hog would have a resultant value to the farmer of $1.20 a bushel, barley a value of 96 cents, and oats a value of 68 cents. The tables form a sort of conversion table or ready reckoner of values and are to be read in that manner.

When 500 lb. of Feed are used to produce 100 lb. of Hog.

Hogs	Value per bushel of
	Wheat	Barley	Oats
10	1.20	.96	.68
9	1.08	.86	.61
8	.96	.75	.64
7	.84	.67	.57
6	.72	.57	.41

When 450 lb. of Feed are used to produce 100 lb. of Hog.

Hogs	Value per bushel of
	Wheat	Barley	Oats
10	1.33	1.06	.75
9	1.20	.96	.68

Actually paid out for labor. The others must choose whether they will utilize a part of their labor in making the bushels of grain that they raise produce a better average income than they can get for them when cashed in as grain. Much of the idle time of farmers, especially in winter, can with proper management, be well utilized in feeding livestock.

In the accompanying tables is given the value of a bushel of grain when fed to hogs. A range of prices for hogs is given and a range of quantities fed to produce a hundred pounds of pork. Two things stand out in these tables. The one is that at a price as low as $6.00 per 100 lbs. for hogs, which is lower than prices have been for many years, barley, oats and the poorer grades of Western wheat will still yield very good values indeed per bushel. The other outstanding feature is that skill and management can largely increase the price per bushel received for grain when it is sold through hogs.

Under the worst conditions the feed cost of hogs should not exceed 500 lb. to each 100 lb. of hog produced. Under reasonably good management the quantity should not exceed 450 lb. Where, as in the East, milk supplements are available, 100 pounds of hog are being produced by many farmers with the equal, including the milk, of 400 lb. of grain, while some men with very good breeding stock and skilful feeding are using even less. This is where one (but only one) of the big features of cost of

Fifth Biennial Conference Of British Empire Service League To Be Held In Canada In 1931

South African Wheat Pool

Formed With the Object Of Organizing the Wheat Industry

A wheat pool for South Africa has been established with headquarters in Capetown, according to advice received by the Department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa. The new wheat pool was organized as a result of a meeting in Pretoria recently of representatives of the Transvaal Free State, Eastern Province and Western Province.

The organization will be registered under the Co-Operative act, and is the culmination of deliberations of a committee appointed at the farmers' conference in January, with the object of organizing the wheat industry. The object of the scheme is to stabilize prices so that ultimately South Africa will produce sufficient wheat to meet its own demands. Millers of the country are reported to be in unanimous agreement with the project. The price paid for wheat will be according to grade, calculated more or less on value of Australian wheat, and prices will be established towards December in accordance with ruling world prices.

It is considered, according to the report received, that there will be no danger that the stabilization of the price of wheat will affect the price of bread as it requires at least eight shillings a bag for wheat before the price of bread will be increased and this is not considered likely to occur.

B.C. Apples Win Cup

Finest All-Round Exhibit At Imperial Fruit Show

High honors in the Imperial Fruit Show in London, England, have been won by British Columbia apples exhibited by the Associated Growers of the Okanagan Valley in competition with fruit from all over Canada, according to cable advices received by the B.C. Department of Agriculture.

The British Columbia fruit has been awarded the cup presented by the agent-general of all Canadian provinces in London, England, for the finest all-round exhibit. This trophy was won by Nova Scotia last year. The award is based on the total marks received by all classes of fruit shown by any exhibitor.

Manitoba University

The University of Manitoba, at present situated in the heart of Winnipeg, is to move to the outskirts of the city on the site of the Manitoba Agricultural College, five miles south of Winnipeg. Work has begun on the erection of a new arts' building to cost over $416,000. The Agricultural College buildings are an imposing pile, representing an expenditure of $4,000,000.

Representatives of all the returned soldier organizations of the Empire will meet in Canada next August, when the fifth biennial conference of the British Empire Service League will be held, it was announced at Ottawa, by Lieut.-Col. L. R. LaFleche, Dominion president of the Canadian Legion.

Led by Earl Jellicoe, admiral of the fleet and presiding officer of the league, delegates will come from the British Isles, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, and from every corner of the far-flung Empire.

In making the announcement, Col. LaFleche said the only definite plan was that the meetings would be held at such a time and in such cities as to permit the whole delegation taking part in the Warrior Day celebration of the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto.

When the last biennial conference of the British Empire Service League was held in London, England, in 1929, Canada sought the next gathering. There was competition for this honor from other Dominions and a decision was withheld. Col. LaFleche has now received a cablegram announcing Canada's invitation had been accepted. Earl Jellicoe presided at the meeting in London, England, which made the decision.

At the London conference 23 countries in the Empire were represented and it is expected there will be at least that number that will send delegates to next year's gathering. The British Empire Service League is an organization of returned veterans, branches of which are in every part of the Empire. The Canadian branch goes under the name of the Canadian Legion. The conference will be the largest gathering of returned soldiers ever held in Canada.

Definite arrangements for the event will not be announced for some time, Col. LaFleche said. More or less tentative plans were made when the invitation was extended in 1929, but they now will have to be changed in some respects because of intervening events.

How Time Is Spent

Frenchman Has Been Investigating and Gives Some Interesting Figures

A Frenchman with a liking for curious figures has been counting up the time that a man ordinarily devotes to common occupations of life. He finds that a man of seventy has usually spent about nineteen years working, twenty-three years in bed, nine years amusing himself or being amused, one year in church, and two years shaving himself. This last portion of time he seems to consider as one of the great wastes of life. But trying to imagine what we should look like if we all had beards we are not inclined to agree with him. Even if we did all save some time from shaving there isn't any real guarantee that we would put that time to any better uses.

New Air Mail Service

Announcement was made by the postmaster-general's department of the inauguration of a regular air mail service between Peace River and North Vermilion, Alberta. The route will be via Carcasson and Fort Vermilion. No definite date for the first flight was made, but it will take place early in December.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON NOVEMBER 16

THE BELIEVING CENTURION— A GENTILE WHOSE FAITH JESUS COMMENDED

Golden Text: "And they shall come from the east and west, and from the north and south, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God."—Luke 13:29.

Lesson: Matthew 8:5-13.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 60:1-9.

Explanations and Comments

The Centurion's Faith, verses 5-7.—One day, as Jesus entered Capernaum, a centurion approached Him. A centurion was an officer in charge of a century, a company of from fifty to one hundred men, the hundredth part of a legion. This centurion was a Gentile, possibly a proselyte, who had built a synagogue for the Jews at Capernaum (Luke 7:5). He came to Jesus and told Him that his servant, who was dear to him, lay at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented. "Some diseases then classed as paralysis produce violent pain," we are told. "It would have been in accord with the general manners of his day—day in which the servant was a slave without civil rights, liable to be tortured in a court of law, and to be slain at the caprice of a brutal master—if the centurion had scorned the inmates of his own household; on the contrary, his servant was dear to him, and he trusted him with the tenderness he would show to his son. Perhaps there is no surer or severer test of the meanness or magnanimity of a man's nature than the simple question, 'How does he treat his inferiors?'"

The Centurion's Faith, verses 8-10.—The centurion declared himself unworthy to receive so great a Guest under his roof. "Only say the word, and my servant shall be healed," he said. Then he illustrated the power of a word from Jesus by his own experience: "For I also am a man under authority, having under myself soldiers; and I say to this one 'Go,' and he goeth, and to another 'Come,' and he cometh; and to my servant, 'Do this,' and he doeth it." If he, a man under authority to others, could say to his soldiers, "Go," and at once they obey, how much more might Jesus, under authority to God, say to the disease of the servant, "Go," and it would be gone! "Instantly, as it would seem, so large and true a conception of the world all held together in one sublime system of authority and obedience, running up to the highest, running down to the least of its activities, filled the soul of Jesus with delight" (Phillips Brooks). And as He marvelled at the centurion's belief that he could heal at a distance, Jesus said to those with Him, "Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel!"

The Centurion's Reward, verse 13.—Turning to the centurion, Jesus then said, "Go thy way; as thou hast believed, so be it unto thee." Thy blessing shall be as great as thy faith. And the servant was healed in that hour.

DOMINION-WIDE AIR SERVICE TO BE INAUGURATED

Winnipeg, Man.—Negotiations are nearing completion for the formation of the Dominion-wide air service, in which the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways will participate, according to word received here recently. Preliminary plans for an all-Canada service were discussed some months ago, and since that time negotiations, now nearing completion, have been under way with the railways and eastern aerial companies.

James A. Richardson, of Winnipeg, financier, and president of the Western Canada Airways, who will be the majority stockholder in the organization, to be known as the Aviation Corporation of Canada, is at present in the east completing negotiations for the new air development.

The Aviation Corporation of Canada will have under its control the Western Canada Airways, the Canadian Transcontinental Airways, the Canadian Airways and other companies, providing an air service from coast to coast. The railways will both be financially interested in the organization, which, it is stated, has the sanction of the Federal Government, although it will have no financial stake in the concern.

Development of train and air schedules to provide speedy transcontinental service across the Dominion is forecast.

There will be no public financing of the corporation in the immediate future, it is understood.

Franco - Italian Naval Difference

United States Ambassador Is Optimistic After Conference With Italy

Rome, Italy.—Hugh S. Gibson, United States ambassador to Belgium, has returned to Geneva apparently optimistic after a series of conferences with Italian government heads looking toward a settlement of the Franco-Italian naval difference.

He did not talk for publication about his conversations with Premier Mussolini and Foreign Minister Grandi, but he left behind an impression that negotiations between France and Italy will be undertaken at the League of Nations preparatory disarmament commission sessions with more likelihood of success than would have been the case before his visit to Rome.

Not Exempt From Taxation

C.N.R. Pays Over Eighteen Million In Three Years

Toronto, Ont.—Relying to the statement that the Canadian National Railway fed on the public exchequer and was exempt from taxation, Sir Henry Thornton, chairman and president of the system, told members of the Toronto Board of Trade Club, that from 1926 to 1929 the railway had paid in federal, provincial and municipal taxes $18,709,000. This amount, he said, was only $3,000,000 less than paid out by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The $3,000,000 less can be explained by the fact that Maritime railways are under a different arrangement.

Pays Tribute To Grenfell

London, England.—The Prince of Wales paid a tribute to the work of Sir Wilfred Grenfell in a letter which was read by the Lord Mayor of London recently at a meeting of the Grenfell Association. The letter read: "There is no doubt that Sir Wilfred is carrying on splendid work in a territory rapidly becoming an economic unit of great potential to Newfoundland and the Empire."

Section Foreman Awarded Prize

Winnipeg, Man.—E. Swanson, section foreman in charge of one of the British Columbia boundary subdivisions at Eholt, B.C., has been awarded the prize donated by W. M. Neal, Winnipeg, general manager western lines Canadian Pacific Railway, for the best maintained section of track on the company's western lines during 1930.

Labor Secures Majority

Premier Ramsay MacDonald Wins Through First Division

London, England.—A majority of only 31 votes carried the Labor Government of Premier Ramsay MacDonald safely through the first important division of the current parliamentary session.

This was regarded a crucial test, for the balloting was only on a motion by the Conservative party to amend the Speech in reply to the Address from the Throne. The amendment was defeated by 281 votes to 250.

The Speech from the Throne has been under bitter attack for two days, the Conservatives regretting the failure of the Laborites to propose any adequate measures to deal with the crisis in the industrial, agricultural and commercial fields or to check the growth of unemployment.

Liberals decided to abstain from voting on the amendment. As a matter of fact, five Liberals, including Sir John Simon, voted against the government, but they were almost counter-balanced by four members of the same party who stood by the administration.

The left wing Laborites stood by Premier MacDonald.

Earnings Forty Millions Less

C.N.R. Has Deficit This Year Of Ten Million

Toronto, Ont.—Gross earnings of the Canadian National Railways system will be $40,000,000 less this year than in 1929, but drastic economies in all departments of operation and in capital expenditure will offset this to the extent of about $30,000,000, it was revealed here by Sir Henry Thornton, president of the system.

The large savings effected, he indicated, were largely achieved by putting off construction work and other new operations not immediately essential.

While no improvement or indication of immediate improvement in C.N.R. earnings was visible, Sir Henry was encouraged at what he thought was a "better feeling" by most people and business men. The extreme and unwarranted pessimism induced by the depression, he thought, was passing rapidly, which was a good sign.

For Improved Motor Cars

Increase In Speed, Comfort, Safety and Cheapness Is Predicted

London, England.—Motor cars of the future will have fewer parts—hundreds of fewer parts—while taxicabs and buses may have their engines at the rear, according to a prediction made here recently by Sir Herbert Austin, prominent manufacturer, while addressing the Institution of Automobile Engineers. He added that all transport would increase in speed, comfort, safety and cheapness.

"Why we put up with the present archaic type of vehicle in London streets," Sir Herbert said, "is difficult to understand." The weight of road vehicles could be reduced with advantage, Sir Herbert declared, and a design was wanted for a 15 horse power closed car to weigh not more than 14 hundred weight.

Brazil Establishes Provisional Government

Reforms and Democratic Elections Promised By Brazilians

Rio De Janeiro.—The Brazilian Government, of which Dr. Getulio Vargas has become the head as the victor in a brief revolution, plans to step out as soon as it has effected reforms and democratic elections will then be conducted.

This was the assurance of Dr. Osvaldo Aranha, associate of Vargas and just named Minister of the Interior and Justice in the temporary government, who told the Associated Press that the new administration will represent the will of the Brazilian people.

"We have established a provisional government similar to that when the republic was proclaimed in 1889," he continued. "We shall shape our programme with the idea of making a real representative government and bringing honest administration into all departments."

Investigate Indian Conditions

Minister Of the Interior To Study Situation In The West

Ottawa, Ont.—In order to examine at first hand conditions on Indian reserves in the prairie provinces, Hon. T. G. Murphy, Minister of Interior and Indian Affairs, will journey to the west the end of this week. While the minister's plans have not been completed, visits are contemplated to a number of reserves in the neighborhood of Regina, Sask., and Calgary, Alberta.

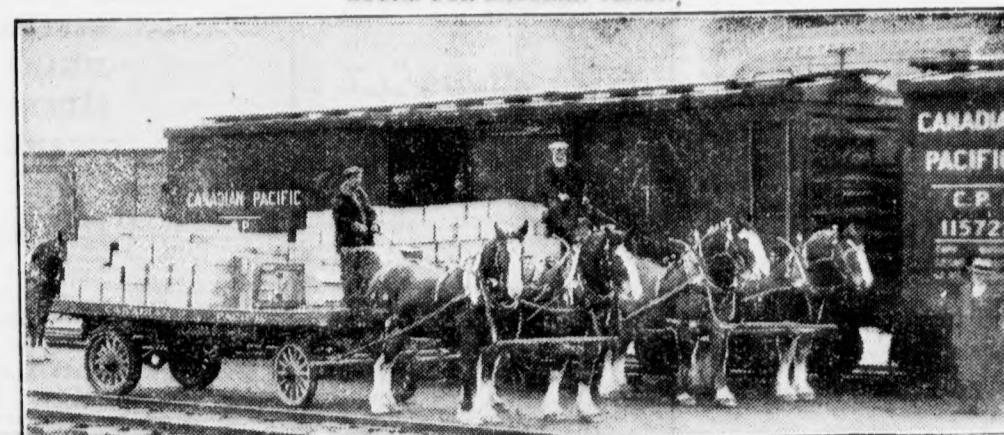

According to officials of the department, reports from Indian agents throughout the country indicate the plight of Indians is serious.

With winter coming on, every effort is being made to find ways to relieve the distress which is considered inevitable.

May Visit French Capital

London, England.—Premier R. B. Bennett, of Canada, will probably visit Paris, after the Imperial Conference has concluded, to discuss trade matters with the French government.

BOUND FOR EASTERN TRADE

Two trucks of shortbread and more coming up to complete the carload which left Winnipeg for Toronto's Christmas trade. It required 645 cases, 12,900 toothsome cakes, to fill the car with the western manufactured product bound for eastern trade—a special order completed this month.

Freemen Of City Of London

Prime Ministers Of Canada, Australia and New Zealand Are Honored

London, England.—In the old Guildhall, with its five centuries of stirring history, the Prime Ministers of Canada, Australia and New Zealand became freemen of the City of London. Premiers R. B. Bennett, J. H. Scullin, and G. W. Forbes, were declared in the ancient formula to be "men of good name and fame."

"They do not desire the freedom of the city whereby they will defraud the King or this city of any of its rights, customs and privileges," so ran the declaration of the compurgators, "they will pay their scot, bear their lot, and so they all say."

Sir Adrian Pollock, city chamberlain, introduced the new freemen. He said Premier R. B. Bennett "has not belied his reputation for plain speaking and anxiety to get things done, which admirable attributes are the more conspicuous on account of his well-known hereditary and passionate loyalty to the empire."

Premier Bennett declared he felt the honor was conferred not upon himself personally, but as an honor to the Dominion of Canada. "I shall tell my fellow-Canadians, when I return, of the high regard you hold for them in this old city and of the deep concern ever manifested in their progress and prosperity," Premier Bennett said.

Premier Bennett referred to the Imperial Conference. "Of this great conference in which we are now engaged," he continued, "I can only say that every delegate, whether from the homeland or the overseas dominions, is actuated by an earnest desire to promote the well-being and prosperity of this great empire, this commonwealth of nations of which we are trustees."

Carried Out Father's Wish

Kingsford-Smith Scatters Ashes Of His Father Over Waters Of Pacific

Sydney, N.S.W.—Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith, using the aeroplane in which he made his last memorable flight from England to Australia, scattered the ashes of his father over the waters of the Pacific Ocean, which had witnessed his first notable triumph in the air.

On his death bed, William Kingsford-Smith, father of the aviator, expressed a wish that his ashes be cast to the winds over the Pacific, and his famous son thus performed his last sad duty to his dead sire. The elder Kingsford-Smith died November 2.

Will Investigate Deportations

All Future Cases Will Be Carefully Considered On Merits

Blind River, Ont.—Further deportations to their native lands of patients confined to mental institutions in the province will not be authorized until every case has been carefully considered on its merits and passed upon following a thorough examination by a competent physician.

This policy will be followed by the Ontario Government in dealing with such cases in future, according to Hon. J. M. Robb, provincial minister of health, in discussing the cases of three women recently to come under the deportation order.

Will Command New Liner

Montreal, Que.—Captain R. G. Latte has been selected to command the new 42,500-ton Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Britain," it was announced here.

NATIONAL FARM POLICY MAY NOW BE FORMULATED

Ottawa, Ont.—New departures in Canadian methods of agriculture are expected to develop from a conference to be held here November 17 and 18 between Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, and Ministers of Agriculture of the various provinces. The conference has been called in the hope of formulating a national agricultural policy.

Not only will the views of the provincial ministers be presented at the conference, but suggestions from the various agricultural colleges will also be put forward. Major Weir has already been in communication with deans of colleges throughout Canada, inviting them to express their opinions.

The discouragement suffered by farmers in attempting to market their crops at reasonable prices has confirmed the minister in his determination to evolve an effective national agricultural policy, according to department officials. While the most crucial phases of the problem are present in the western provinces, the conference will not concentrate on the wheat situation alone, it is understood, but will endeavor to bring forth a policy of benefit to the country as a whole.

Major Weir has not made an expression of his own views, but is believed to favor a gradual increase in cattle-raising in the western provinces.

Helium Gas For Airships

Dr. Hugo Eckener Will Use Helium Gas and Crude Oil Motors In New Zeppelin

Berlin, Germany.—Dr. Hugo Eckener surprised the annual dinner of the American Chamber of Commerce here by announcing that as a result of the recent disaster to the British dirigible R-101 he had changed the plans for Zeppelins now under construction so as to provide for helium gas and crude oil motors.

He said he had received word from the United States that helium gas, which is non-inflammable and non-explosive, would be available to inflate his airships in whatever quantities desired.

Dr. Eckener, who is world famous as commander of the Graf Zeppelin, declared that had it not been for an explosion the crash of the R-101 in France several weeks ago would have resulted in minimum damages. As it was the great airship burned to almost nothing and 48 British lives were lost.

Wheat Shows High Protein

Calgary, Alberta.—The earlier threshed grain from the southern part of Alberta showed remarkably high protein, according to tests made from many points, it is reported by the Alberta Wheat Pool. Samples for Hesketh and Idlesleigh, showed a protein content of 19 per cent., while many other points supplied samples of wheat which tested from 15 to 18 protein content.

Planning Two Great Planes

Berlin, Germany.—The aeroplane that startled and surprised the world, the Dornier DO-X, is to have two sister ships if information received through aviation circles proves correct. It is reported that the Dornier Company is at work building two planes the size of the DO-X and that they are expected to be completed in May, 1931.

Aviator Receives Decoration

Copenhagen, Denmark.—Captain Wolfgang Von Gronau, the German trans-Atlantic flyer, received from King Christian a decoration in recognition of his crossing the Atlantic to New York by way of Greenland. The flyer said the route will be the main highway of trans-Atlantic traffic in the future.

Brandon, Man.—A poultry exhibit of considerable size will be sent to the Toronto Royal Show this month by the province of Manitoba. John Windover of this city stated that more than 50 birds would be shipped east and that turkeys will comprise a large portion of the exhibit.

EDOUARD J. ROULEAU,
Editor and PublisherSMALL TOWN STUFF

If, when you were born, all your relatives wanted to name you, your dad passed the cigars to all his friends and his "firm" gave him the rest of the week off, that was "small town stuff."

It, when you graduated from high school, you sent invitations as freely as a farmer sows his oats, and you got a present from everyone you invited because they really wanted to wish you well—that, too, was small town stuff.

If, when you got married, your boss called you in and personally congratulated you, raised your wages and had you out to his house for dinner as soon as you got back from your honeymoon, that was small town stuff.

If, when your house burned the tenth year of your married life, half the town left their work to fight the flames, two of your competitors, singed their eyebrows and baked their faces dragging out your grand piano, and your worst enemy dashed in at the last minute to save your little daughter's pet canary—that, too, was small town stuff.

If, that same year—your hard luck year—you got a cheque you couldn't identify at Christmas time for just the amount that would pay your wife's last hospital bill—that too, was small town stuff.

And finally, if after you read this you tilt back in your chair and say with a grin, "Gosh, that reminds me of the time, etc."—then you, too, thank heaven, really understand the "small town stuff." —Saanich Review.

DELIVER ME FROM MY FRIENDS

The thing that makes it hard for a person to run a newspaper is his friends. When a friend thinks something ought to be kept out of the paper he does not hesitate to ask it as a personal favor. An enemy doesn't ask favors. But a friend thinks the conduct of a newspaper is the personal matter of the editor, when as a matter of fact he is largely in the position of a man serving a public trust. A philosophical old fellow once said: "A newspaper that doesn't make me mad once in a while isn't worth the subscription price." To make people mad isn't the chief aim of a newspaper, but if it's going to be one worthy the name, it must print the news without fear or favor. This paper has been threatened with, and indeed, has suffered, business reprisals, not once but frequently. These things must necessarily be born in silence. The great reading public which a newspaper serves is not interested in the personal difficulties of the editor or publisher, though we have known instances where a full airing of threats and subsequent reprisals would have made absorbing reading. But such things must be regarded as part of the game—to be suffered perhaps because of sins committed in other directions. And then, too, it must be remembered that all things, both human and divine, are subject to criticism. Even the Bible does not escape. Ex.

"I believe," he said, turning with mock severity to Gay, "that you've been telling on me."

Simeon Bartlett chuckled as he replied: "She ain't told nothin' I didn't know beforehand, boy. You've got a sort o' conquerin' way about you. If you hadn't, do you b'lieve this little gal would ha' picked up her duds and started off at a minute's notice?"

"It was thirty minutes," Nick corrected, "and she didn't keep me waiting either! Well, we must be off. A thousand thanks, Mr. Bartlett, for this happy week."

"Good luck!" called Simeon Bartlett as they strode away.

And good luck had followed them. Through the whole summer, rain came during the night. With few exceptions their days were bright and sparkling. They struck off through picturesque New Hampshire, sleeping at farms when the chance came; often spending their nights beneath the stars; and once accepting the hospitality of a Gypsy camp.

September found them in Maine, revelling in those first beautiful days that only at night give a hint of the colder days to come. They had climbed what their hostess of the night before had called "a mountain," which, though hardly deserving the name, showed them a wonderful, wide stretch of creaming waves.

"I'd almost forgotten that I loved the sea," said Nick. "Gay! let's set sail for a warmer clime! There's money enough yet to take us South—or shall it be the big southwest we've dreamed about: Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico—deserts and mountains—canyons and waterfalls—California and the Pacific? Oh, my dear! Isn't it glorious to be free?"

Free? It was then that fear clutched at the girl's heart. She was seated upon the ground, but Nick stood, his back to the wide expanse of blue, his hair blown away from his forehead, an open shirt revealing his strong young throat. As she looked up at him Gay thought that Simeon Bartlett had been right—Nick had a conquering air about him. To think of shutting him up in that stuffy corner of the bank again seemed as cruel as clipping the wings of an eagle. Yet, she thought, with a quickening of her heart, even an eagle has its nest.

"Nick," she said, as he dropped beside her, "do—do you ever have the least, tiny desire to settle down?"

He smiled, and quoted:

"Who has not felt how sadly sweet, The dream of home, the dream of home"

"My dear girl, of course I think of settling down, as you prosaically put it; but not yet. We set out for the ends of the earth, if I remember rightly, and we've reached only the edge of the Atlantic! Settle down! Gay, are you crazy, or—Why what's the matter?"

She looked up, bravely fighting back the tears, and said: "Nothing, Nick. I—" Then so softly he had to bend to hear: "Nick dear—I can't go on."

"Can't go on! Have I tired you out, or—or—Oh, Gay!"

He knew, then. The knowledge came with a blinding sense of chaos. Wonder and dismay went hand in hand. New-stirring fatherly pride fought savagely with a sense of dull defeat. Then love triumphed over self, and he thought only of Gay—fear for her—terror for what she was to go through. . . . Was she glad, or His clasped hands tightened, and he pulled himself together to hear her say:

"You mustn't feel too bad about it, dear old boy. I—I've thought out everything. I'm going back, but you are to go on. No! don't speak. I can't go back to Bakersville alone, Nick. That would be too hard. But I can stay with Mr. Bartlett. He'd like to have me—somehow I know I could give him pleasure. It—it won't be till spring, Nick, and perhaps by then you—Oh, my dear," she broke off suddenly, "I should be so happy if I felt that you were happy! But you won't be satisfied unless you're free, Nick, and—"

"Free!" Nick tossed the word aside as impulsively as he had tossed his stick and bundle on that bright May morning. "Free! and you back there with that old man!" He put his arms about her. "What sort of freedom would it be, Gay, darling? What do you take me for? Do you think I haven't any natural instincts—that I can't be happy over this as well as you? What a goose you are! Have you been losing sleep because you were afraid to tell me that our wanderings are at an end?"

He kissed her with a tenderness that brought her tears, even as she protested: "But it mustn't be the end for you, dear. There's no reason—"

"There's the best of reasons," he insisted. "I tell you what, Gay!" (he was, to all appearances, enthusiastic), "we'll go back by train and hire 'The Bird's Nest' of Mr. Bartlett. We'll stay there through October; then, if nothing more interesting turns up, there's the bank, you know, with a raise waiting for me whenever I want to claim it. John Maxwell told me so before I came away. As for the ends of the earth, dear—why worry about something that'll keep? We'll have it to look forward to, you know."

Through her tears Gay threw him a look of gratitude; but further arguments proved futile.

"No, I shan't leave you," Nick declared soberly. "I should feel like a slacker. Dear, don't worry about my disappointment. Remember these glorious weeks we've had, and which we'll always have to remember and look back upon. We can't escape responsibilities forever."

"But," she hesitated, "I—I hate to be the one to bring them to you, Nick."

He smiled, and taking her handkerchief, dried her tears as if she were a child.

"There! you're not to cry another tear. As for those responsibilities, dear girl, I brought them on myself. I made you come with me. I didn't give you time to consider these possible complications. I didn't consider 'em myself. But do you imagine that I'd have things different now? Look back on the days we've had together and answer that!"

"Oh, Nick," she said, while comfort swept through her heart in a healing flood, "if I could know that you'd always feel so! But you've only begun to stretch your wings, and who knows how long it will be before you can roam again? Nick, promise me something—promise you'll tell me if the time comes when you feel you must have more freedom. I—I couldn't bear to think that you were tugging at your leash."

"I promise," Nick answered soberly, meeting her mood; then added with all the confidence of youth: "But the time won't come."

Two days later an amazed and beaming Simeon Bartlett, arose from a big rocker on his front porch, and greeted them with all the cordiality of a long-lost uncle.

"Jiminy Crickets! I was just wonderin' about you. Ain't had a card since you left Portland. Thought maybe you'd took the train for some fur-off port, or set sail for the Fiji Islands. And here you be, turnin' in my own front gate! Set down, ma'am. You're a sight for sore eyes, both o' you; but what in thunderation brings you back ahead o' time?"

Gay flushed, but Nick answered readily: "Only the time-worn and unquenchable desire for 'Home Sweet Home.' In other words, we want to hire your camp, and when cold weather drives us out we'll go back to Bakersville, and the stately portals of the First National Bank. May we have the cabin, Mr. Bartlett?"

"It ain't for rent—not at no price whatever; but you're welcome to use it long as you see fit. But first you got to visit with me a spell, and tell me all about your travels. I ain't had a thing interestin' happen since you left. Many's the evenin', ma'am, that I've set here thinkin' o' that chowder, and the good time you give me, to say nothin' of all them postcards you sent back, an' letters, too. I saved 'em all. They're in the lacquer box my great-uncle Ebenezer Bartlett brought from Japan. Don't hardly see how you got a chance to write 'em, ma'am."

"We usually manage to do the things we want to do," Gay answered, "and I wanted you to know what a wonderful time we were having."

"Don't regret your hasty bargain, then?" chuckled the old man.

"Not yet," said Gay, with a sweet, upward glance at Nick that was not lost upon their host.

"And Nick?" queried Simeon, his eyes twinkling. "Sorry you ain't wadin' in the Pacific, boy—or be you satisfied to come back to old New England?"

"I've never set foot out of New England yet," laughed Nick, "and some day I shall wade in the Pacific. As for being satisfied—you ask Gay if she's heard any complaints on my part."

Free Freight Policy

Westerners Can Ship Breeding Stock Free Of Freight Charges Under Certain Conditions

Major the Honorable Robert Weir, Federal Minister of Agriculture, has announced a new free freight policy whereby heifers suitable for breeding stock bought by bona fide farmers and cattlemen at stockyards west of Fort William will be returned to the buyer's farm or ranch freight free. Application should be made to the nearest stockyard for the benefits of the policy. The concession extends to carloads of not less than twenty heifers to be used for breeding purposes only, to be, so far as possible, of the same type and breed and to be not more than twenty-four months old. Free freight is obtained on the certificate of the authorized stockyards representative of the Dominion Live Stock Branch at point of purchase. It entitles the shipper to have his car of breeding stock billed to his home station free of freight charges. The railway company assumes 25 per cent. of the freight and the Dominion Live Stock Branch the balance.

Little Helps For This Week

Woman's Fortitude

Forces Herself To Smile Through Pain

"I never seem to find time to rest," says many an overworked housewife. Under smiles and forced cheerfulness she conceals weariness and nervous depression; headaches and backaches. Often she is in real pain, but still refuses to give up. This very fortitude is apt to be her undoing. If she continues to neglect the signals of distress she will sooner or later suffer a serious breakdown.

A noted doctor has stated that nine-tenths of the ills of womanhood are due to poor blood. That anaemia is the cause of the low spirits, the poor appetite and palpitation that make life a burden for so many. There is no need, however, for women to suffer in this way. All the miseries of anaemia can be banished by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills create an abundance of new, rich, red blood and this new blood will bring strength and vitality to nervous, overtired women. The Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Montreal Largest Inland Port

It is expected that the improved ship channel in the River St. Lawrence as far as Montreal, giving a 35-foot depth for ocean liners, will be completed by 1934. This will enable liners of 20,000 tons gross to sail to Montreal, 1,000 miles from the Atlantic, the largest inland port in the world.

Canadians Greatest Radio Users

According to the president of the Radio Manufacturers' Association of Canada the per capita expenditure in the Dominion on radio sets is the highest in the world. In 1929 Canadians spent over $50,000,000 on radios and equipment.

FARMERS AIDED TO MEET DEBTS. STATES BROWNLEE

"We are receiving very satisfactory co-operation from the various financial interests in the province in connection with giving the farmers in the province an opportunity to meet their obligations following the rather serious crop situation encountered this fall," Premier Brownlee told a newspaper man last week.

The government had met all of the groups, including automobile, finance corporations, implement dealers, mortgage corporations and banks, and hoped to meet the Retail Merchants Association representatives in the very near future, the premier stated further.

Every opportunity to give the farmers a chance to meet their obligations had been given, said the premier, adding that such action on the part of the various groups was greatly appreciated by the provincial government.

In Charles Peterson's book on "Wheat, the Riddle of Markets," he gives the distribution of prices on a pound of bread. These figures cover a two-year average, and show the percentage going to everyone on the final purchase of a loaf of bread. The producer of wheat gets 13.4 per cent, the country elevator gets 0.79 per cent, the transportation and terminal wheat agencies 3.25 per cent, flour miller 4.75 per cent, the transportation agencies for flour 3.08 per cent, wholesale baker 59.77 per cent, retail grocer 14.96 per cent.

Canadian Pacific Express men were hosts to Patsy, Mabel, Chester and Sheerix Brocky, of Badgerville, Subterranea, who spent a week in Montreal recently before sailing to Europe. The four Brockies sailed for Hamburg on board on the SS. Beaverford, October 31, and will settle in Germany, where their children will probably be used to lather the faces of customers in Teutonic shaving emporia.

The badgers are good Canadians, raised in Alberta and consigned from Edmonton to Gittelde-Harz, Germany, for breeding. One and a half pounds of steak twice a day, at lunch and dinner, keep them alive and happy, and doubtless contributed to their enjoyment of the long journey on the Canadian Pacific Railway from Edmonton to Montreal. Breakfast is now quite déclassé in the best badger circles.

The above photograph shows Patsy receiving the first installment of her lunch before being taken by the C.P.R. Express truck to embark on the Beaverford. "What do you want with me" says Mabel, as she was being sketched, "I've had my lunch and feel fine; sitting pretty, in fact. Nothing more for publication, this is the end of my tale...."
